Short Story on Weekly Trip To Leh

Once upon a time, there was a young couple named Jack and Jill, who lived in a bustling city and led monotonous lives. They always dreamed of traveling to different parts of the world and exploring new cultures. One day, they decided to take a break from their routine and embark on an adventure in the beautiful Ladakh region of India.

Their journey began in Leh, the largest city in Ladakh and a popular hub for tourists. They were amazed by the stark contrast of the city, surrounded by barren mountains, compared to the bustling city they lived in. They spent their first day acclimatizing to the high altitude, visiting the local market and exploring the Shanti Stupa and Leh Palace.

The next day, they set off for the Nubra Valley, a scenic valley located in the north of Leh. The journey took them through the winding roads of the Himalayas and they were awestruck by the breathtaking views. They visited the Diskit Monastery and the famous sand dunes at Hunder, which were unique experiences in themselves.

From Nubra Valley, they made their way to Turtuk, a small village located in the northernmost part of India. The village was surrounded by rolling hills and the couple was fascinated by the simplicity and charm of the place. They stayed with a local family and got a taste of the traditional Ladakhi lifestyle.

The next stop was Pangong Tso, a picturesque lake located at a high altitude and a major attraction for tourists. Jack and Jill were captivated by the serenity and beauty of the lake and spent an entire day soaking in the views. They stayed at a camp near the lake and enjoyed a peaceful night under the starry skies.

The next day, they drove back to Leh, stopping at the Hemis Monastery and Thiksey Monastery on the way. They spent their final day in Ladakh visiting the Khardung La, the highest motorable road in the world. The breathtaking views from the top were a fitting end to their adventure.

As they returned to their city, Jack and Jill realized the importance of traveling and exploring new cultures. They had stepped out of their comfort zones and discovered that the world is a beautiful place, full of diverse cultures, landscapes, and people. Traveling had expanded their horizons, given them new perspectives and memories that they would cherish for a lifetime.

This story highlights the importance of traveling and exploring new destinations. It encourages us to step out of our comfort zones, immerse ourselves in different cultures and broaden our perspectives. So pack your bags and set off on an adventure today!

Detailed Itinerary

Day 01 (05th May) :- Leh

Arrival in Leh, check-in at hotel for acclimatization with dinner and overnight stay. Ready for a great trip!

Day 02 (06th May) :- Leh Exploration

A day to relax in Leh and acclimatize yourself. After breakfast drive to explore the beauty of Shanti Stupa, Leh palace, Thiksey Monastery and market .
Shanti Stupa:- Shanti stupa was founded in 1985 sponsored by Japanese for world peace. It was inaugurated by His holiness the 14th Dalai lama. Shanti stupa has a spectacular view of Leh city and Stokglacier.

Leh Palace:-The Leh Palace known as 'Lachen Palkhar' was built by Singay Namgyal, around the beginning of 17th century AD. The nine-storey Palace is now deserted, and archeological survey of India has taken up the renovation work. Overnight in hotel.

Visit The Hall of Fame and if you wish to see the lights show in the evening your free to stay back and see the show. A place that shows how Indian Army fought with its Martyrs and Arms used during the Indo-Pak war. It also has a small souvenir store

DAY 03 (07TH May) :- Leh To Nubra Valley Via Khardung La Pass 17,582 FT., Distance: 120 Kms

After breakfast, we drive to Nubra valley. The journey from Leh to Nubra spans 39 km and passes through the iconic Khardung La Pass. At an altitude of 17,582 ft., it is one of the five highest motorable roads in the world. Shrouded in a blanket of snow, the pass affords you sweeping views of the Indus Valley, along with the seemingly endless Zaskar range in the south. To your north, behold the magnificent Saser massif in all its glory.

Adorned with fluttering prayer flags, Khardung La top is arguably the most picturesque location in Ladakh. From Khardung La, we continue the journey to Nubra valley, also known as Ldumra or the Valley of Flowers. Sitting at an altitude of approximately 10,000 ft., it is nestled in the north of Ladakh, right between the Ladakh Himalayas and the Karakoram range. Once at Nubra, we check into our camps/hotel in Hunder for the night. Take in the breathtaking views of the lush oasis villages set as a stark contrast amidst barren mountains. These villages give you a rare glimpse into the fascinating lives of the locals. Overnight stay at the camp/hotel.

Day 04 (08th May) :- Nubra to Turtuk to Nubra, Distance: 250 kms

After an early breakfast, we head out from the camp/hotel, and drive to Turtuk Via Shyok War memorial, Turtuk is a village in the Indian union territory of Ladakh and the headquarters of an eponymous community development block. Turtuk is one of the northernmost villages of India, second only to Murgo Village, the northernmost village of India. Also known as the last village of India.

Day 05 (09th May) : Nubra to Pangong Tso, Distance: 240 kms

Reigning at an altitude of 13,930 ft., the alpine lake of Pangong spans about 5 - 8 km in width and 140 km in length, sharing territory with India (30%) and China (70%). Catch the slanting rays of the sun on the bright, crystal-clear waters of the lake, which also bears beautiful reflections of the barren hills that guard it. Throughout the day, catch the shuttle change in the colors of the lake - from clear blue to dark green to turquoise and more. The entire setting could not be more perfect. Overnight stay at the hotel.

DAY 06 (10th May) :- Pangong Tso To Leh Via Chang La Pass, Distance: 225 Kms

After an early breakfast, we drive back to Leh via Chang La Pass, another one of the world's highest motorable roads (17,586 ft.) A scenic 8 hours drive brings you to the top of Chang La Pass, a perfect spot for photography. From Chang La Pass, we head down to Leh.

Day 07 (11th May) :- Back to Leh

Post breakfast we check out from the hotel and proceed towards Airport.
